

JOY

One chair, two ways Both leisure and working

MATSU Joy relaxation chair is slim and smart in its overall look. The backrest' s curve is ergonomically scientific, perfect for the human body. Joy' s seat is extremely comfortable, highlighting the ergonomic feature of its three-dimensional model, with its lifted front part and the cambered edge.

Seat :

- 1) S-shaped design fits closely to body curve and it is comfortable;
- 2) The raised front part and arc-shaped seat outline reflect 3D beauty and features of human engineering. Arc-shaped chair edge reduces thigh pressure and enables the flexibility of feet

Concave in the center of chair fits to buttocks, with raised front part to reduce thigh pressure

Chair back :

- 1) The plastic back helps to maintain spine curvature. Unique horizontal groove increases supporting force;

Back frame :

- 1) Simple style integrates curve and right angle, which is the soul of JOY;
- 2) The curve at the top of back supports user's back. At the meantime, the curve at the top and at the down part enable people to move the chair;
- 3) The hollow part between the back and the seat makes it easy for us to clean the chair.

Top curve supports your back

Dedicated to create office with sustainable development

MATSU makes contribution to products' LEED scores by means of improving effective utilization of rapidly renewable materials and recycling materials, increasing the level of using recycling and local materials, reducing volatility of products, increasing lighting energy saving, lighting comfort and space natural lighting.

Tips :

LEED Green building certification

LEED Green construction certification, issued by USGBC, is the most advanced and practical green building certification system in the world.

Product certification GREENGUARD

GREENGUARD product certification is for low-volatility products and materials. This certification is aimed at producer, manufacturer and trader and is mainly for 20 categories such as furniture, office furniture, flooring, wall materials, decoration and fabric. This certification is well recognized internationally (aiming at product volatility)
